Shantz Family Hold Reunion.

An interesting family reunion took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brennan, when the Shantz family, sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mrs. Anna Shantz and the late Mr. Jerry Shantz, gathered together for the first time in 23 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Shantz were pioneers of the Didsbury district, coming here in 1894 and homesteading 1 1/2 miles east of town. At that time the present town of Didsbury was only a name where the train stopped.

There were 30 present at the family dinner and following are the immediate family:

Mr. Harry Shantz, Vallejo, California; Mr. Merle Shantz and family, Selma, California; Mr. Wilfred Shantz, Kitchener, Ontario; Mr. Jacob Shantz and family, Calgary. Mr. Jacob Shantz was the first child born in Didsbury.

Miss Nora Shantz, Syracuse, New York; Miss Bertie Shantz, Rochester, New York; Mrs. Harold Brennan, Didsbury, and Mrs. Elmer Cowitz Didsbury.

"The Crowd Roars."

Fans who are weary of the talk in talkies and want action for their money, can get more than their money's worth in "The Crowd Roars," one of the fastest-moving, red-blooded pieces of sheer entertainment ever printed on celluloid. The picture, which should do more for Robert Taylor's popularity than any previous effort comes to the Opera House this weekend.

Taylor turns in the standout performance of his career as Tommy McCoy, who fights his way up from the wrong side of the tracks to a crack at the light-heavyweight title.

With every element of casting and atmosphere "The Crowd Roars" is calculated to make a true knockout.

Knox United Church Notes

"Bound in the Bundle of Life" will be the theme at the services on the Didsbury United Church Charge on the coming Sunday. If it is a warm evening we will worship in the lower hall of the church, where it is always cool. Join with us in an hour of Sabbath rest and meditation.

WEDDINGS

WALDIN-DYCK

The M.B.C. Church, Didsbury, was the scene of a quiet and lovely wedding on Friday, June 30th, when Katherine Margaret, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dyck, Didsbury, became the bride of Mr. Peter Waldin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Waldin, St. Dunstan's, Winchester, Hampshire, England. Rev. V. K. Snyder performed the ceremony.

To the strains of wedding music played by Mrs. Harley Traub, the bridal party took their places before the altar, which was very tastefully decorated with large ferns and flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride, fair and tall, was charming in a floor-length silk georgette gown trimmed with lace, a wide shirred belt laced at the front and a large brilliant at the neckline. Her veil was three-quarter length, held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of pale pink carnations.

Orpha and Esther Dyck, sisters of the bride, were prettily dressed alike in floor-length gowns of rose-pink taffeta, with matching embroidered net halos, and each carried a large bouquet of mauve lilacs.

Mr. Walter Snyder, Carstairs, acted as groomsmen, and Messrs. Jake and Nic. Dyck were the ushers.

During the signing of the register Mr. Ben Dyck sang very beautifully the solo "O Perfect Love."

Immediately following the ceremony a delicious buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents to 125 guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Waldin left, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, for a brief honeymoon. The bride travelled in a navy-blue tailored suit, with rose-pink blouse and hat, navy shoes, bag and gloves. Our best wishes attend this happy couple. —Contributed

BROWN-BIRKETT

A quiet wedding of local interest was solemnized in North Hill United Church, Calgary, on July 5th, between Margaret Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Birkett, Calgary, and Mr. Charles Searle Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, of the Rugby district. Rev. Rex Brown officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Ing, a friend of the bride.

The bride was charmingly attired in coral-pink sheer with a coronet of lily-of-the-valley and a waist-length veil in the same shade as the plainly modelled gown. Her accessories were of a powder-blue shade, while her only ornament was a necklace and bracelet of brilliants, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Her attendant was Mrs. Arthur Nelson, of Claresholm, who wore a princess model of royal-blue satin with grey accessories. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Arthur Nelson, also of Claresholm.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the York Hotel. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ing, and replied to by the bride.

New Massey-Harris Agent For Didsbury

Mr. A. E. Maloney from Raymond, Saskatchewan, arrived last week to take over the Massey-Harris agency for the Didsbury district.

Mr. Maloney has had considerable experience in operation of Massey-Harris implements and is fully qualified to meet all requirements.

He is a returned man, having served with the 28th Battalion C.E.F., overseas, and has had practical experience of the M.-H. line of implements on all kinds of land.

Thanks.

Mountain View Women's Institute wish to express their appreciation of the assistance given by rural friends and neighbors at the recent Cleaning Bee for the Community Hall. We especially thank the Sunday School Group, who gave so willingly of their time and efforts.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for an extended motor trip to the Pacific coast, and upon their return they will reside at Didsbury.

Will Nominate Independent For Didsbury Riding

An independent candidate will be nominated in Didsbury constituency at the next provincial election was decided at a unity executive meeting held at Acme on Friday last.

The meeting comprised members of the different political parties opposed to the present government and they were unanimous in deciding that an independent candidate should be nominated.

It was arranged to hold a joint meeting of all organizations and persons interested in the selection of an independent candidate for the Didsbury riding which will be held at Carstairs Hall next Wednesday, July 19 at 2 p. m. At this meeting plans will be made for holding a nominating convention in the near future.

Calf Club Visits Calgary Exhibition

The members of the Didsbury Calf Club paid a visit to the Calgary Exhibition on Tuesday. The morning was spent looking over the stock exhibits and watching the judging of the cattle and the afternoon was spent taking in the stampee events.

In the evening the party were entertained to supper at the Club Cafe by Mr. A. D. Campbell, of the Union Milk Co.

Cancer : The Killer

Tuberculosis, once the most insidious of diseases to which human flesh was heir, has been brought within control in Canada within the past decade as a result, not only of improved technique in the treatment of cases, but more largely because of the general and widespread adoption of better preventive methods, including a rigid system of inspection of contacts and potential contacts. As a menace to human life tuberculosis is on the way out.

Now the fight is on throughout the Dominion to reduce to a similar degree of impotence that most dreaded foe of the middle aged and the elderly—cancer.

As most people now know cancer is near the head of the list of the as yet unconquered diseases which take a heavy, and in its progress a painful, toll of humankind in this and in other civilized countries of the world. At present it is a more difficult enemy to subjugate than tuberculosis for several reasons. One of these is the fact that the cause of cancer has not yet been determined. If it is the work of a germ, and medical science is doubtful about that, the microbe responsible has not been found and isolated. For that reason cancer is not subject to medical treatment. There is no known drug which will prevent, control or cure this terrible disease, despite the claims of quackery.

Another difficulty in prosecuting a war on cancer is the fact that its presence may be unsuspected by the victim until it is too late for treatment to be effective. As a general rule it is painless in the early and curative stages. For that reason early diagnosis is absolutely imperative, for later, the chance of effecting a cure becomes progressively more remote.

Education Needed

This means that if the disease is to be brought within control a public campaign of education to make the public aware of the symptoms which may or may not indicate the presence of cancer before it is too late for effective treatment, and of the necessity of seeking medical advice without delay at the first suspicion that something is wrong, is essential.

Arguments have been advanced against the now generally approved plan of the medical profession to make the public cancer-conscious on the ground that people are likely to be frightened, but as has been pointed out by more than one authority, fear has been one of the deterrents against early diagnosis. Many have failed to consult their medical advisers until too late because it might mean an operation and they were afraid of an operation.

"You are going to frighten the people to death", complained one critic to the late Lord Moynehan, British cancer expert, at the close of one of his lectures on cancer, "I am trying to frighten them into life," replied Lord Moynehan. "I never heard of anyone dying of fear but thousands who might have been saved are dying of cancer."

While this educational campaign among the public has only been under way for a few years on this continent there is reason to believe that it is already having some effect and that some lives have been saved which would otherwise have been lost.

Results In Evidence

Evidence in support of this statement was recently given by Dr. Frank E. Adair in the bulletin of The American Society for the Control of Cancer, an organization which is spending $100,000 a year in its educational campaign. Some of the results reported by Dr. Adair are as follows:

1. A study of 750 patients with cancer of the breast, skin, mouth, rectum and uterus showed that 75 per cent. of the cancers had left the original site and had spread to the lymph nodes. A similar study four years later of 900 such cases showed a decrease from 75 per cent. to 66 per cent. that had gone to the lymph nodes.
2. In a study recently made in one hospital, it was found that in 1920, 54 per cent. of the cases of breast cancer arrived too late to be operated on, while seventeen years later, in the same hospital, only 13 per cent. of the cases arrived too late to be operated on.
3. A study completed only recently showed that the average age for women who came to the doctor with cancer of the breast, from 1920 to 1926, was 54.3 years. A study made in the same hospital on the breast cancer cases arriving from 1930 to 1936 showed an average age of 51.1 years.
4. A recent study of the size of the cancers removed at operation showed that 71 per cent. were over one inch in diameter, while in the same institution five years later, only 66 per cent. were over one inch in diameter.
5. Another study, recently made, showed that in one hospital the cancer patients were arriving with cancers so small that it was necessary to make a biopsy (an excision for microscopic study) in three times as many cases as was necessary 15 years earlier when cancers were larger and the diagnosis consequently easier.

Hope For The Future

To those who appreciate the dread character of this disease and the importance of early diagnosis the foregoing evidence must be very heartening, for not only does it indicate that already some results from public education are being achieved but also that much greater results can be attained as the scope of the educational campaign is widened.

The extent to which results can be achieved, and the rapidity with which they can be achieved, will be determined by the amount of money which is made available for the continuance and extension of the campaign.

A Good Description

Young Mr. Benderbury landed home late from a whist drive. He brought a prize, a large oil lamp. He handed it proudly, if unsteadily, to his sister.

"It's so like you," said his sister, and Mr. Benderbury looked pleased.

Then she continued: "It's good looking and wants a lot of attention; unsteady on its legs; and when half-oiled inclined to explode; flares up occasionally; out at bedtime; and smokes too much."

Japanese Dancers

Public Performers Seek Other Work Since Outbreak Of War

The Japan Times Weekly says the taxi dancers in Tokyo and elsewhere have been decreasing in number since the outbreak of the China trouble. Half their number are supposed to have given up their jobs and turned to other lines for their living. Before the country had passed under wartime conditions the best dancers used to earn more than 600 yen a month. The highest earning figure nowadays is less than 60 yen.

This situation may be explained chiefly on the ground of dancing being under a cloud. The police believe that men and women should not be dancing when men are fighting out in China. The official mind refuses to draw distinction between frivolity and pleasure.

Switzerland Plays Safe

Has Never Depended Entirely On Other Nations For Defense

In 1815 the perpetual neutrality of Switzerland and the inviolability of its territory were guaranteed by Austria, Great Britain, Portugal, Prussia and Russia, but the Confederation has never neglected what its people regarded as adequate military defense, and to-day they are not unmindful of the dangers that beset small nations. To strengthen the Army the Parliament readjusted the national service program last month, and it is significant of popular feeling that the measure accomplishing this was allowed by the people to become effective without a referendum. A few years ago such acquiescence in a statute imposing further duties on the people would have been inconceivable in a country where the referendum is resorted to freely. A referendum was held recently on a rearmament and public works plan the cost of which is put at $90,000,000. The vote was 441,000 in favor of the expenditures against 199,000 in opposition. The sum to be expended under this authorization amounts to almost four-fifths of the total of budget estimates for 1937.—New York Sun.

How Times Change

Modern Fast Transportation Annihilates Distances In West

The other day an airplane left Lethbridge and 20 minutes later it was over Calgary. Twenty minutes for 125 air miles.

When the North West Mounted Police started out on their long trek from Bismark, North Dakota, in 1874, looking for a place in the North West Territories of Canada to establish a fort and bring law and order to the prairie regions, it took them all summer and part of the fall to make the trip to Fort Macleod. When Fort Calgary was established the next year it took two days by stage coach to drive from Calgary to Macleod. From Fort Benton, Montana, to Fort Macleod, Alberta, it was 10 days by bull team to haul in the necessary freight. And now, we can travel from Lethbridge to Calgary in 20 minutes.—Lethbridge Herald.

University Of The Air To Train Military Pilots For The Defence Of Canada

A "university of the air" primarily to train military pilots but also to develop civil fliers is being set up by the federal government.

Like orthodox universities it will have a four-year term but at this flying institution the students will be paid at least $4 a day for offering their services instead of paying for their tutelage.

The Dominion's latest "college" is scattered across the country at eight airports, at Camp Borden and at Trenton, Ont., where young men will be trained for the Royal Canadian Air Force as part of Canada's expanding defence program.

Young men taking out short-service commissions with the R.C.A.F. will train for 50 weeks at flying clubs in eight Canadian cities and at two air stations in Ontario under the new program the national defence department is starting.

After the training period, for which they receive $4 a day, they graduate formally into the air force where they are obliged to serve three years. During their service in the regular fighting squadrons of the R.C.A.F. they are paid $5.75 a day for a pilot officer, $6.44 for a flying officer, $7.81 for flight lieutenant and $9.04 for squadron leader. Various allowances are made for rations, quarters, uniforms and marriage.

Five per cent. of this salary is deducted to be paid the pilot when he leaves the service after the four-year term and besides this a $500 a year gratuity for the three years in the squadrons also is guaranteed when he withdraws to private life.

With this next egg, the defence department feels the man who spends four years in the R.C.A.F. on a short-service commission has ample means to rehabilitate himself in civilian life.

If he leaves the force at the end of the period he retains his connection with the R.C.A.F. for a six-year period through transfer to the reserve force. He has certain liabilities on the reserve; he might be pressed into service for training or action in time of national emergency or in defence of Canada against actual or apprehended attack.

In this manner, the defence department hopes to build a strong supply of military pilots in the Dominion and create a big reserve of flying men. It also is anticipated that civil aviation will benefit from this short-service training plan for many young pilots probably will consider the four-year service in the R.C.A.F. merely an educational stepping stone to commercial flying. Without expense to themselves, it will prepare them for future work in the skies piloting commercial air lines planes.

The new scheme has met with great success as far as registration, defence officials say. Hundreds of applications have been received for the 76 pilot posts to be filled this year. In the intermediate and advanced stages 50 British recruits for the Royal Air Force will train with those aiming at positions in the R.C.A.F.

In the official document explaining the training plan it is stated that "all candidates must be British subjects of pure European descent." The applicant goes through a medical examination before being accepted and then is sent to the flying schools for elementary training.

Graduates of universities who enrol for a permanent commission and intend to make the R.C.A.F. their career also will be paid $4 a day during the year's training period.

After they obtain their wings, however, they continue right on in the service and do not drop out of the ranks after three more years, as the short-service commission pilots do. Apart from the training of pilots, the defence department also has evolved a scheme for training groundmen, technicians, mechanics to look after airport equipment and the fighting planes.

Take Toll Of Wild Life

Motorists On Canadian Highways Should Use More Precautions

Each year motor cars travelling on Canadian highways take a heavy toll of the wild denizens of the forests and fields, according to the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, which administers the Migratory Birds Convention Act in Canada and is concerned with the conservation of wild life. Some authorities estimate that one vertebrate wild creature is killed by motor vehicles every day of spring and summer in every five miles of roadway in the United States, and the death toll of wild life on Canada's half-million miles of roads during the six months of spring, summer and fall driving must be enormous.

Few motorists realize that the coming of spring, when Nature is eloquent with life and rich in the joy of living, marks the commencement of the season when death stalks the highways for the creatures of the wild. There are few drivers of cars who have not at some time or other heard or seen a bird collide with their cars and looking back observed a broken, crumpled bundle of feathers squirming in the dust. Some species of birds love taking dust baths on the country roads and others alight on the roadway to pick up insects killed by passing cars, only to be crushed to death by fast-moving traffic.

Then there is the driver who seeing a rabbit blinded by the glare of headlights will deliberately step on the gas and try to run down the confused animal.

A little more thoughtfulness on the part of drivers of motor vehicles would save many of these creatures from disaster, and sometimes a lingering death with great suffering. Apart from humane reasons, such consideration would go a long way in helping to conserve Canadian wild life, which is not only of great interest to the people, but of economic importance as well.

Clergyman Took Right Way To Get Rid Of Ghost

The bell-ringer-and-candle ceremony adopted by two Norfolk clergymen to rid their parishes of alleged ghostly influences might have drawn a smile from Archbishop Thomson, who once claimed to have found a very much simpler method of exorcism, says the Manchester Guardian.

On one occasion, when staying at an old country house, he was put into an alleged haunted chamber. In the morning his hostess asked anxiously if he had been disturbed. "Well, yes," said Dr. Thomson. "About midnight I heard a knock at the door." "Oh, that would be the ghost," exclaimed she. "That is exactly how he acts. Whatever did you do?"

"I said, 'Come in', and in came an old sallow-looking man. I got out of bed and went up to him. 'Do you belong to this house?' I asked, and he nodded assent. 'Are you a parishioner?' I asked, and again he nodded. 'Then' said I, 'I am anxious to build a new school-house. Will you give me a subscription?' And, my dear lady, he immediately vanished, and I saw no more of him."

Name For Radio

Navajos Indians Call It The Wind-That-Talks

An item from Window Rock, Ariz., says that the Navajos have a word for radio. They call it "wind-that-talks".

The expression might, with more justice, be applied to a considerable percentage of those who broadcast over the radio.

Or perhaps the Navajos may think up something even more pat when they become familiar with the vociferations of radio ballyhoosers and spellbinders, their experience with receiving sets being still in its infancy. Detroit Free Press.

U.S. Public Discriminating

Why The American Masses Turned Out To Greet The King And Queen

The English seem astounded by the enthusiasm of American crowds over the King and Queen. There would be no such surprise if the British papers were in the habit of covering the United States as well as American papers cover Great Britain and the rest of Europe. Americans are as familiar with the personalities of Kings, Queens and dictators as they are with those of Presidents, Governors and Senators. They put them through the assaying process of ordinary common sense and sentiment. George and Elizabeth were 24 carats fine with the American masses that turned out to greet them. The crowd knew their histories, liked their personalities, realized the sense of duty that sent them on the errand to the West, and admired the pleasant patience with which they went through a trying, even if thrilling program. And when an American gathering, particularly a few millions of New Yorkers, wants to show its appreciation it takes the silence off. It has none of the reserve or reticence of the Best Country Families. The British whether in Limehouse or the Carlton Club, may rest assured that the greeting to Their Majesties was on the level. That could be read in the faces of the millions who waited for the arrival of the Royal guests. Patience and politeness radiated from both parties to the happy transaction. The King produced the right tempo by asking that the procession slow down. If the Queen stole the show, that sort of theft has gone on innocently for ages.

So Europe need not wonder at the popular success of the visit. Curiosity was only one of the elements. But Europe need not imagine that all others of its highly placed persons would fare as well. The American public is most discriminating.

Butter Distribution

Nation-Wide Warning Against Abuses Under This Plan

The Dominion department of agriculture issued a nation-wide warning against abuses under the government scheme of distributing butter to unemployed and low-income group families free by issue of vouchers. Those guilty of abuse of vouchers leave themselves liable to prosecution, officials said.

The department has received reports of storekeepers charging more than the local price for butter in accepting the vouchers, and reports of voucher holders exchanging butter vouchers for cigarettes, tobacco and other goods. The practice is not general, however, the officials said.

Sees Special Significance In Reports In Nazi Press About Royal Visit To United States

By Grace Of Britain

Dominions Claim The King But Contribute Nothing To Royal Household

Canadians rejoicing that His Majesty is King of Canada, in the same sense as of Great Britain, have not been asked to remind themselves that Great Britain pays the cost of maintaining the Royal household, while they contribute nothing. If there is equality of status, honor and benefits, is the division of expense fair?

The annuities payable to the King and members of the Royal Family are made available by the United Kingdom Parliament. His Majesty's Privy Purse amounts to £110,000. There is an appropriation of £134,000 for household salaries and retiring allowances, besides £152,800 for expenses of the Royal household, and £13,200 for Royal bounty. This makes a not inconsiderable total of £410,000, to which are added annuities for Queen Mary and other members of the Royal Family.

The net revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall are vested in the Sovereign until the birth of a Duke of Cornwall, but by the King's desire these at present are applied to reduce the amount payable from the Consolidated Fund.

As a matter of record the revenues from the Crown lands surrendered by George III, far exceed the cost of the Civil List; so when George III accepted this substitute the advantage was all with Parliament. Maintenance of the Royal Family and household, therefore, actually costs the British people nothing. The sum nevertheless is granted yearly by Parliament upon recommendation of a Select Committee.

Provision for the King of Canada is strictly a United Kingdom affair, a rather one-sided arrangement under equality of status.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

How To Gather Eggs

Cooling The Eggs Is Very Important In Obtaining Best Grade

Eggs should be gathered in a wire mesh basket, not in an old bucket or any old thing which comes handy. When gathered they should be put in a cool place, in a cellar if possible, and not packed in crates until cool. Cooling is particularly important, especially in helping to qualify the eggs for the Grade A class. There is little or no circulation in an egg crate, consequently eggs placed at once in crates do not cool, and the longer the eggs stay warm in the crate the more likely they are to become a poor grade. After a time the white in the uncooled egg tends to weaken, with the result that when the grader passes the egg in front of the light he places the egg in Grade B.

Things unsaid—and things suppressed—often say more than spoken and written words. This is what lends special significance to the meager, belittling and misleading reports in the German press about the royal visit to the United States.

The nature and the paucity of these reports is, of course, the result of design, says the New York Herald Tribune. The German leaders do not wish the German people to know of the extraordinarily friendly interest which the American people are showing in the Royal couple. Instead they hint of "incidents" and "difficulties" and try to give the impression that the reception has been far from cordial.

The reason for this is obvious—that the German leaders are themselves disturbed to see the extent to which the American people have been aroused by this visit. It violates traditional German prejudices and hopes about the United States. It shows that the quantity which the Germans have believed to be characteristic of the American people is non-existent, and that such anti-British resentment as remains in this country is small indeed, far smaller than the resentment against Hitler's Germany and his American agents.

To Mr. Hitler this is bad news. What remains unknown is how Mr. Hitler will react to it. If the Royal visit helps to drive home to him the fact that the outside world still cherishes faith in these systems of government and ways of life which he has said over and over again are weak and worthless, and that in many things the Americans see eye to eye with the British, it may lead him to hesitate before exploding a new crisis. His system of international blackmail is predicated on a world torn by strife and jealousy. It would flourish best in the event of an Anglo-American rift.

Before 1914 Germany could and did ignore the United States as a world power. This is no longer practical politics as the events of 1917 and afterward indicated. But it is significant that just as the German leaders deliberately blinded their people to the true course of American sentiment prior to 1917, so to-day they are again trying to mislead the German people and in particular, are seeking to give the impression that the American people are cold to the British.

The danger lies in the fact that the eagerness of Mr. Hitler's advisers to belittle the success of the Royal visit may end up by making Mr. Hitler himself underestimate its significance.

Delayed Relief

Authorities Appeared To Be Slow In Looking After The Needy

A relief investigator in a Canadian city was recently sent out to examine two cases where relief had been applied for, but where through a departmental oversight no action had been taken.

At the first house an angry wife complained: "It's been two weeks since my husband applied for relief. And not a thing done about it! Well, he just couldn't wait any longer. So he had to go out and get a job."

At the second house the applicants had not been forced to the dire extremity of seeking work. The husband was still at home but he was very much vexed at the department's delay. He demanded of the relief investigator: "Is this the service you provide taxpayers in our city?" The Printed Word.

By H. G. L. STRANGE

Director "Crop Testing Plan"

"How are we going to sell the surplus of wheat, honey, apples, butter and other products which are now a burden on the market in Canada?"

This was the question put by Mayor Telford to the annual meeting of the Canadian Technical Agriculturists at Vancouver.

Some answered "We must reduce production to the smaller amounts we are now selling and, by marketing board controls, fix higher prices." Others said "Find industrial uses for these products." Still others thought "Help Canadian manufacturers to increase tariffs so as to stop foreign goods from coming in, then Canadian industries will be built up and we will sell more agricultural products to Canadian people than we are now doing."

But the agricultural economists said "No, these suggestions are not sound. The true and proper method is to lower high tariffs and to remove other restrictions which are now strangling trade, and so permit more foreign goods to come in, and then foreign countries will be able to buy our surpluses of wheat and other agricultural products, which we know, on undeniable authority, foreign people badly need and would buy if they could." Besides which, the economists added, "increased international trade leads to peace, and the present policy of restricted trade certainly leads straight to war."

Following factors have tended to raise price: Excessive rains lower prospects in Hungary -- U. S. Department of Agriculture predicts reduction of 600 million bushels in the world wheat crop as compared with last year -- Combined wheat estimates for China, Japan and Manchukuo 15% below average -- Holland buys American wheat -- Apprehension over European political developments -- Some reduction indicated in Argentine wheat acreage.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Floating wheat stocks increase -- Argentine corn shipments increase -- Rains relieve dryness in Balkans -- Weather favorable for all crops in British Guinea -- Argentine wheat offered for resale -- Morocco competing with barley -- No material improvement in European demand -- Prospects of a bumper crop in South Africa.

Rugby Notes

The Bazaar held by Ladies of Rugby W. I. on Saturday, July 8, was most successful. The articles for sale were many and various, from aprons to hand lotion, with the objects for sale going well, especially the ice cream and candy served during tea. When closing time came a tired group of members realized jubilantly a most substantial amount had been gathered in. During the afternoon a ball game between Melvin and Elktion resulted in a victory for the latter with a score of 11-4. We are hoping to hold the postponed W. I. meeting this Thursday, July 13, at the home of Mrs. Shannon, weather permitting.

UNITY OF CANADA ★

DOMINION OF CANADA

ALBERTA

.....AND NOW OIL!

★ Canada's strength as a Dominion is built on the strength of her inter-dependent Provinces. Each of them shares in the production of the others; each contributes to the power of the Dominion as a whole.

With over 700,000 people, producing $300,000,000 of wealth every year from agriculture, livestock, mining, trapping, fisheries, manufacturing, exporting some 7,000,000 tons of their products; with some 60,000 miles of roads, with 100,000 registrations of cars—passenger, truck and farm equipment; entertaining some 25,000 tourist cars, and thousands of visitors that come by rail, one would say Alberta is "tops".

But in addition to all these riches—these grain fields, these immense flocks and herds, these mines and plants—new word has come of the Turner Valley Oil Fields, estimated to be the largest in the British Empire.

Potential production of the field is now 18,900,000 barrels per annum. Two new refineries will be built in Calgary at a cost of $2,250,000, and a half million dollars will be spent in additions to an existing plant. The payroll of the Turner Valley Oil Field will approximate $500,000 per month.

The significance to Canadians is that this gift of nature is located within the Confederation of Canadian Provinces—The Dominion—and therefore is one of the assets of the Empire. Alberta is great in her own right, but as one of a united series of Provinces stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific she enjoys the prestige and standing of the Nation itself. Ask for Facts and Figures concerning the Automotive Industries and the work they are doing in Canada, and we will send them.

This advertisement is one of a series dealing with the Provinces of Canada, and will appear in many daily and weekly newspapers in the Dominion.

BUILDING CANADIAN MOTOR CARS
is a National Enterprise

The establishment of Canada's Automotive Industry has resulted in the creation of a home market of inestimable value to each and every one of the Provinces. The interchange of goods and money can be appreciated when one remembers that this industry alone spends in the Dominion every year on an average of $130,000,000 which finds its way to every part of Canada. In turn, Canadians purchase Canadian-built cars, thus keeping money in Canada and helping employment. No dollar stays where it is made but is distributed gradually to the most remote part of the Dominion. The Automotive Industry is National in purpose and National in scope. When you buy a Canadian-built car, you help your own Province.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Britain has given haven to 44,909 German, Austrian and Czecho-Slovak refugees, mostly on a temporary basis, it was announced.

The United States house of representatives stamped its approval on a bill carrying $1,735,000,000 to finance relief for the year starting July 1.

Assessment on an acreage against all oil wells operating in Turner Valley, under the Oil and Gas Conservation Act of 1938, was announced by the Alberta conservation board.

British troops aided by aeroplanes killed nine terrorists in a battle near Jericho as a fresh outbreak of Jewish-Arab strife caused 18 deaths in Haifa's market place.

A new experimental station for agricultural research may be established in central British Columbia in the near future, Dr. F. S. Archibald, director of Dominion experimental farms, said.

A drive to show the menace of cancer in Canada was forecast to the Canadian Medical Association's general council at the 70th annual convention. Public addresses will be given at various points.

Health Minister Walter Elliot broadcast an appeal for 108,000 women as nurses and ambulance drivers to bolster Great Britain's first-aid auxiliary units and to place them on a full wartime basis.

Sources close to former King Alfonso of Spain said he had no immediate plans to return to Spain and reclaim palaces and personal properties restored to him by General Franco.

Horseshoeing isn't the business it used to be—but it's still far from a lost art. An advertisement for blacksmiths to work at the Charleston, S.C. navy-yard brought 15 applicants.

Power From Uranium

Scientist Conducting Experiments To Obtain New Source Of Heat

Frederick Joliot, co-winner of the 1935 Nobel prize for chemistry, is trying to find a way to make a $2 pound of uranium give up as much heat or power as is now obtained from burning $10,000 worth of coal.

Joliot is now working independently of his wife, Irene Joliot-Curie, with whom he was given the 1935 Nobel award. She is the daughter of the famed Pierre and Marie Curie, discoverers of radium.

It has been found that when uranium is bombarded by an electrical beam made of neutrons some of the uranium atoms split in two. The neutron beams are made in various ways in laboratories.

When the uranium atoms split, the parts fly away from the metal in the form of two high-voltage particles. If enough of these particles can be produced they will form an electrical beam which can be used to operate machines.

Protection For Cars

Invents Gadget That Will Stop The Car And Catch The Thief

Pasquale Cannone, of Naples, Italy, announced that he had invented a device which would not only thwart an automobile thief but practically deliver him into the arms of the law.

The theory is that an automobile owner fixes the Cannone anti-theft box, ten inches by four, in his car and moves a hidden lever when he leaves the car unoccupied.

The thief enters. When he has driven the car 100 yards it stops and can not be re-started. The doors lock externally and a horn blows until the police arrive and turn it off. Also a red sign appears on the car with the warning: "Stolen." It is asserted that the device cannot be short-circuited.

Cannone plans to sell his invention at 100 lire ($5.25).

Inefficient operation of any one set of automobile brake shoes causes undue wear on the other three, which must then bear the whole load of braking.

Given a choice between a confirmed optimist and a confirmed pessimist we would choose the latter, because a nuisance is less obnoxious than a menace.

Spontaneous Welcome

New York Paper Speaks Of Recent Visit Of The King And Queen

To us our welcome to the Royal visitors was a perfectly normal and spontaneous expression of American goodwill and hospitality. That is the way we do things here. To be sure, the welcome might have been less heart-felt if the King and Queen had not proved themselves such charming and tactful guests.

It was partly curiosity, no doubt, which brought out the vast New York crowds. But it was a genuine tribute nevertheless, and as much to the British people as to their Sovereigns. We like the British because we understand them better than most foreigners. And, after all, why shouldn't we? They gave us our speech, our manners and customs and, after a little persuasion by the Continental army, our country itself.

Germany, perhaps, will be relieved to know that our enthusiastic welcome to the British King and Queen does not mean that we are about to rush into war beside Great Britain. But it does voice an ardent desire for peace and friendship, for sympathetic understanding and for the unity of two strong nations in a distracted world. It would be foolish for any nation to ignore it. —New York Times.

Flies—Nobody Loves 'Em!

If Everybody Would Conscientiously Do Their Part, Flies Would Not Remain A Major Health Problem

A female house fly deposits 100 to 150 eggs at one time and, from this batch of eggs, it may be less than two weeks, in warm weather, before the winged flies emerge. It is obvious, then, how quickly they may multiply unless they are ruthlessly controlled and, in any communities where they are left unmolested, they may bring a real epidemic of sickness and disease for they are carriers of typhoid and other germs. If their breeding places, which are usually out-of-doors, on garbage, manure piles and similar situations, could be eliminated, this would reduce the fly menace to a very minor problem but, unfortunately, this cannot be adequately done. The flies must, therefore, be prevented from carrying filth and dangerous germs from out-of-doors onto feeding bottles, food or drink that's left exposed inside the home.

As we have already said, the most important thing is to clean up thoroughly where potential breeding places exist out-of-doors, particularly adjoining the house. To prevent flies entering the house, doors and windows must be screened. Children's cribs should be protected and all exposed food or drink covered. However, whatever is done, (and there is a surprisingly large number of people who are not interested enough to do anything) flies have a way of entering most homes in small or large numbers.

In such a case, a few Wilson's Fly Pads, put in convenient places around the house, all the time until cold weather comes and the fly danger is over, will effectively stop their activities. They work quickly, cleanly and kill all the flies.

Join your fellow citizens, who believe in a safer, cleaner community for the children and public at large, by doing your part to combat and eliminate the fly menace.

Effect Of The Visit

Much Was Accomplished In Counteracting Irrational Prejudice

Was anything accomplished by the Royal visit? As to that, one guess is as good as another. Certainly there was no tangible, material accomplishment, but nothing of that kind was sought. When practical matters are to be discussed, Mr. Hull and Lord Halifax will get together, not the King and the President. But international relations are not confined to treaties and agreements, written or oral. There are also what Bismarck called "the intangibles", the immense field of sentiment and emotion, influenced much more strongly by legend and tradition than by statistical reports.

It is in this field that the effect of the visit must be sought. The fact that millions of Americans have lately decided that the King of England is, on the whole, a remarkably nice fellow, has no real bearing on our relations with the British Empire, but it may be highly important, nevertheless, because it may do much to counteract irrational prejudice. —Baltimore Sun.

The only piano in this country known to have a bank account, says the Boston Globe, is the elderly one bought by the East Rochester, New Hampshire, Improvement Society 33 years ago. Ever since its purchase every time the piano has been used for a town dance one dollar has been deposited to its credit, and when the society held its first meeting in 15 years members were surprised to find that the instrument had $1,300 in the bank.

Starts Conscience Fund

First Contribution In United States Town Comes From Laborer

City Clerk Charles N. Harnden, Leominster, Mass., has established a conscience fund, the first in Leominster's history, as result of an anonymous laborer's "contribution". The man handed $10 to Harnden, explaining:

"I've been working for the city—cutting brush, and I feel that I've been paid more than the job was worth. So here's 10 bucks to square us."

SELECTED RECIPES

RAISIN NUT PUCE CAKE (Two Eggs)

- 2 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon mace
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, unbeaten
- 1/2 cup molasses

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then add molasses and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Spread Raisin Nut Filling between layers and Lemon Butter Frosting on top and sides of cake.

Raisin Nut Filling

- 8 teaspoons water
- 1/2 cup broken walnut meats, toasted
- 1/2 cup cut seeded raisins
- 4 teaspoons cream or rich milk (about)

Heat sugar, butter, and water in skillet, and cook until mixture forms a soft ball in cold water (236 degrees F.). Remove from fire; add nuts and raisins. Add cream until of right consistency to spread. Makes enough filling to spread between two 9-inch layers.

HOPE FOR STUTTERERS

Miss Ruth Lewis, a member of the staff of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, writes in "Health" on a "Baffling type of speech defect due largely to emotional disturbances." Strongly advocating the prevention of stuttering, Miss Lewis gives these suggestions:

1. Resolve your child's emotional stresses wisely. Look for the causes of his emotional strain in your own life and conduct as well as his. Disharmony in the household may be having a definite reaction in the emotional development of your child.
2. Over-stimulation of the child, especially in the language field, is dangerous for the child who shows any tendency to stutter. (This situation more frequently occurs in the case of the only child.)
3. If the child naturally develops left-handedness do not attempt to make him right-handed.
4. When stuttering does occur remember that over-anxiety on the part of the parents only lessens the stutterer's chance of control.
5. Seek advice early. Do not complacently rest on the chance of the child growing out of stuttering, the danger of his growing into it is just as great.

Consider It An Interlude

Reason Majority Of Women Have Little Business Future

Dr. Samuel Stevens, Dean of the University College at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., tossed several buckets of academic cold water on career women in business.

Whether she's a college graduate or quits school at the end of the sixth grade there's no future for the average woman in business, Dean Stevens said in an interview. Their own attitude toward life, the Dean said, was one of the chief factors operating to keep women out of top-ranking business positions.

"Most women inevitably look upon business as an interlude between school and marriage," he said. "Almost every survey of women graduating from our universities shows that a big majority look forward to a home and family. 'This is normal and healthy but it makes women an impermanent, unstable part of business personnel which employers have exploited quite generally by paying them less than men for equivalent work.'"

"If a woman has a sufficient number of what we commonly conceive as masculine characteristics such as aggressiveness, dominance and extreme objectivity, she can make the grade. Thank God, though, a majority of women do not possess these characteristics. You rarely find a 'feminine' woman in a position of executive responsibility."

A revival of roller skating has taken place in the Netherlands recently. CHAPTER XIII. Continued

Conrad Jordan was Gunnar's only defender. All Danavale condemned him hotly. The elders considered it a blessing that he had gone—his presence, they understood from her mother, was only a torment to the poor child—but certainly he had acted most shabbily.

"What a heel!" Sarah Lynn's young brother said. "Gosh—what a heel!"

Because of his defection, because he was the alien, the intruder in the clan, Danavale had convinced itself that Gunnar Thorwald was, indirectly, the reason for Sarah Lynn's tragic accident.

Lynn Dana and Conrad Jordan agreed to cease discussing it. The flier stood loyally by the ace.

"I don't see what else the boy could do, Lynn. She turned from him—she shrank from him—in horror. She begged him to go away forever; she told him repeatedly that she never wanted to see him again."

She begged him to go away forever.

"But—in her condition—"
 "No; she was not under opiates; she was absolutely clear. Upon my word, I don't see how he could have acted otherwise."

How You May Reduce Varicose or Swollen Veins—Heal Ulcers

A Simple Home Treatment

The world progresses. Today many minor ailments that took weeks to overcome can be helped much more quickly. If you have varicose veins or bunions, start today to bring them back to normal size and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. In a short time the veins should begin to grow smaller and by regular use soon approach normal.

People who want to reduce varicose veins or swellings should not hesitate to try a bottle at once. It is so penetrating and economical that a small bottle lasts a long time.

Conrad Jordan went back to Tahoe to close his lodge for the winter. The man in the wheeled-chair wrote to his travelling cousin:

"I cannot help feeling that Gunnar acted ignobly. And yet—what could he accomplish by staying? If Sarah Lynn is to be helpless, what, after all, would they have in common? It was, we must in justice remember, a plant of hasty growth; not deeply rooted, I dare say. Flying brought them together. But now—even without her injury, I doubt if he could have fitted himself into our scene; eagles don't make barnyard fowls."

"They are bringing her home from the hospital in a few days. Her mother has turned over her own sitting-room to Sarah Lynn. Duncan Van Doren is a pattern of devotion; they tell me—constantly there, reading aloud, always on the job. Well, perhaps it helps a little; the test comes later, when they know whether she has a chance of more than partial recovery."

The typewriter was silent while he looked up at the pipe-rack above his fireplace, done in painstaking pyrography with unconvincing poppies painted in, and below, in rather wobbly letters, the verse:

It matters not how strait the gate,
 How charged with punishments the scroll,
 I am the master of my fate;
 I am the captain of my soul.

The girl who had made that for him, the golden-curved, violet-eyed, mother-of-pearl maiden who had sobbed that she would sit beside his chair all the long days of her life, had not been put to the test. If she had not died—He wondered. It was a fragrant memory.

Mrs. Edwin Dana's upstairs sitting-room had always been a place of cozy cheer, but now it fairly radiated and exuded joyous serenity. People came into the room with rising infectious, stepping lightly on the balls of their feet. They sometimes paused outside the door to arrange their smiles.

Miss Pennington sat there with her sewing, and young Bill racketed in on his return from school, and her father and the older brothers came for brisk and breezy chats before or after their dinner.

Her mother and Duncan, one or the other, were always there.

"Did you ever see such devotion?" people asked, almost reverently. "If Cousin Adelaide isn't the very essence of self-sacrificing mother-love! And Duncan, well, if ever a fellow deserved a reward."

Mary Dana Webster told her husband, "I loathe having to admit it, because I never could see him with a binocular, but Duncan is certainly a wonder about this. Honestly, he is, I never gave him credit for really caring, tremendously; I thought the whole affair had been motivated by the mothers. But he must care, Neddy."

Her husband turned a lathered face. "Probably does, poor kid."

"Of course, I think he's getting a great kick out of his own nobility. No, really, I don't say that cattily. It doesn't detract from his credit. But I do think he dramatizes himself—Gunnar Thorwald, Norwegian ace, heartlessly flying home, deserting his helpless, paralyzed sweetheart; Duncan Van Doren standing by. Well, that's natural enough. And as for Cousin Adelaide, actually, she gets more beautiful by the hour, and I don't believe she was ever happier in her life."

"Oh, come, now," he reached for his shaving lotion. "That's pretty thick, old gal! After all her grief and shock and—"

She stood her ground. "I can understand it. Cousin Adelaide is one of those born-to-commanders, and for the first time Sarah Lynn is obeying. Even as a baby, she wriggled away, and was a contrary child, and she wouldn't make a proper debut, and she wouldn't be engaged to Duncan Van Doren. And then she would fly, and she would marry a foreign flier. Now her mother's got her, utterly. She's just as much in a cage as those jittery canaries. She broods over her and feeds her like a baby bird in a nest."

To her husband's bewilderment she burst into angry tears.

CHAPTER XIV.

Slowly, almost imperceptibly, month by month and then week by week, Sarah Lynn improved, inching her snail-like way up the hill of progressive recovery. The eminent bone specialist was delighted, the local doctor enthusiastic. She could turn her head; she could use her hands; she could have the bed tilted; the frame and the cast gave way to a brace. Joy, dewy and triumphant, pulsed through the pretty room, and Aunt Helena wore prophet's robes, swimming the gleaming lawns between the two houses.

Sarah Lynn told herself, "The inside of my mind is just like the inside of this room: it is peaceful and warm and I will keep flowers blooming in it and canaries singing and kittens playing. I won't let Lightning come into my room or into my mind because she whines and moans for me to go out and I am never going out any more." She was always faintly smiling and her eyes were never wide open. Her mother felt she needed mental stimulus. "Darling, now you're so marvelously improved, wouldn't it be nice to brush up on your French or review your art history?"

"It would be very nice," Sarah Lynn answered with her strange new docility. She had gained a little flesh and now her dark eyes did not overflow her face so completely.

Duncan read aloud pleasantly in a well-modulated voice which never grew hoarse. At least once a week he put the book down and picked up her hand and kissed it and asked her again to marry him.

"No; I couldn't do that to you, Duncan," she always told him gently. "That would be a dreadful way to repay all your kindness."

"There isn't any question of repayment, Sarah Lynn. But if you think I rate a reward—you know what I want!" His sensitive, fine-featured face would flush and his eyes mist for a moment. There was no possible doubt now as to the depth of Duncan's devotion and it gave him dignity; it actually made him seem larger. A sudden and exulting toothache sent him to the dentist one afternoon when Mrs. Dana was doing sad duty at a funeral. "I'll call Penny to come and sit with you," he said, hurrying away.

The governess sat down and put on her reading-glasses. "I don't want to go on with Mr. Duncan's book and put him to the bother of catching up," she said. "I picked up some things I've been dipping into myself."

Miss Pennington cleared her throat. "I've been reviewing my Scandinavian history a bit. Fascinating I find it." She kept her pale, protuberant eyes on the page. "The Norse women were very advanced. I was interested to discover, from the earliest periods, Advanced, I mean to say in the sense of their position. Famous housewives understood medicine in a crude way, and had a fine position in society, and were counted almost the equal of men. Very hospitable, they were! The traits of the Norse women."

There was an odd, muffled sound from Sarah Lynn. "And the Norsemen," she said thinly. "Aren't you going to tell me about the traits of the Norsemen, Penny? Well, it's not necessary; I remember perfectly." She began to recite in a toneless sing-song: "The Norseman had a keen mind; his heart was as much steel as his sword; he loved battle and the stormy seas; he admired the strong, the brave; for the old and feeble he had no interest; for the suffering, no sympathy; the weak he despised."

Founders Of Scout Movement Have Reason To Be Proud

Scouting in Canada continues as a major force for good in those elements building self-reliance and integrity as part of the national character. As has been often said, few individuals in their day have lived to see such lasting and eminently worthwhile results spring from their endeavors as have the founders of the world-wide organization of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

It is a tribute both to the character of the Canadian people and to Lord and Lady Baden Powell that within the last four years some 200,000 Scouts have passed through the senior organization, or remain actively identified with it—a record closely followed by the Guides. Within the movement itself there is the saying that "Once a Scout, always a Scout."

Inherent in both organizations are elemental truths that will hold good for all time. Honesty, self-reliance, cheerfulness, industry, team-work, and loyalty to God and man are sure foundations for worthwhile life. Under patronage of His Excellency the Governor-General at Ottawa, and national and provincial officers everywhere, both organizations are in good hands, and building daily something that Canada could not afford to remain without. These are the days to "Be Prepared!" — Victoria Colonist.

Pensions For Veterans

The number was an increase of 211 over the last financial year, but a decrease of $268,390 in financial liability.

Symbol Of Friendship

United States And Britain Share Use Of Strategic Islands

Two pinpoints on the map of the Pacific have become a symbol of Anglo-American amity.

The islands Canton and Enderbury—were referred to by President Roosevelt in his toast to the King at the White House dinner in Washington.

"Two small uninhabited islands in the centre of the Pacific," the President said, "became of sudden interest to the British Empire and to the United States as stepping stones for commercial airplanes between America and Australasia. Both nations claimed sovereignty. Both nations had good cases."

He went on to say that a long-drawn-out argument could have brought ill will and have delayed the use of the islands by either nation. A solution finally was found by the joint use of both islands by both nations, with the question of sovereignty deferred for 50 years.

Mr. Roosevelt commented that if this example "could only be universally followed, relations between all countries would rest upon a sure foundation, and men and women everywhere could once more look upon a happy, a prosperous and peaceful world."

The islands are members of the Phoenix group of eight, nearly in the centre of the Pacific, a short distance south of the equator.
